Unique hygiene protection

Our range includes the only walk-in baths with BioCote antimicrobial protection built in. This world-leading technology eliminates 99.9% of nasty superbugs such as E.Coli, Salmonella and MRSA.

BioCote is a premium silver-based antimicrobial technology that provides built-in, around the clock protection for the lifetime of our products. It is effective against a wide range of microbes, including harmful bacteria that may cause illness and reduces the risk of cross contamination. Choose an Access bath and you are assured protection 24/7.

Reduce illness, stay well

Unlike liquid disinfectants, BioCote is integrated during the manufacturing process so cannot be wiped off or worn away – giving you enhanced hygiene and reduced risk of illness. As more microbes become resistant to traditional cleaning methods, this is so important for your health and well-being.

BioCote also helps to keep your bath looking fantastic by reducing stains, eliminating odours and increasing durability. This unique advantage is only available from us.

Revitalise and rejuvenate.

Considering your choices.

Owning an Access walk-in bath can be life-changing. But how do you choose your ideal bath? It's simple with us.

With an Access bath, life will be easier for you and for those around you. Through stylish design your bathroom will be a place to be proud of and everyday bathing practicalities will be hassle-free. However with so many choices in the Access range, it is important to spend time thinking about your individual needs and preferred features – now and in the future.

Here are a few pointers to help with your choice. If you would like further advice, remember we have a friendly customer service team ready to answer any further questions you may have.

How big is your bathroom?

The size of your bathroom can affect which bath is right for you. If you are tight on space a compact Florida bath might be ideal or a mid-sized Tennessee with outward opening door. Whereas if you have plenty of room, a full-length Montana or P-shaped Louisiana could be perfect.

How do you bathe?

If you are a quick 'in-and-out' bather then a simple design with limited options might be better for you. However if you like to soak for longer you could choose from our many options including air spa, Chromotherapy and Wireless sound system.

Your abilities?

If you have limited mobility or strength in certain parts of your body then there is an ideal Access bath to help. For example, the Easy Riser is the ultimate choice with its powered seat that reclines and lifts.

Like to shower?

Our shower screens are a popular addition to our baths as they give you flexible bathing. Each screen comes with toughened safety glass and a swing-away hinge for easy access and cleaning.

Who's using the bath?

When choosing the right accessible bath it is important to consider who else might be using it. You might have family members or a partner with different mobility needs. If so a full-length bath such as the Arizona could give greater all-round suitability.

Want to feel safer?

Rest assured, there are multiple safety features built into every Access bath. From slip-resistant surfaces and emergency access door hinges, to easy access plugs and even antimicrobial protection – we are number one for safety.

Your preferred style?

As there is so much choice in the Access range, you will always be able to select the ideal look. Match your bath styling with your taste in decor and if you want to make a real statement, maybe try a colour that isn't white – we have an infinite range!
